

No Justice in the Voluntary Assessing
System, Judge Finds

At Arkadelphia this week Circuit Judge Lyle Brown handed down an illuminating decision on tax assessing methods as followed by Arkansas counties in general and Clark County in particular.

In the Clark county case International Paper company, owner of 70,000 acres of timberland, and Ozan Lumber company, owner of 38,000 acres, were protesting sharp increases in their assessed valuation for 1952 as compared to 1951. They had appealed from the Clark County Equalization Board to County Judge Harvey McCauley, and finally to the circuit court.

The circuit court's decision as written by Judge Brown found that while the two out-of-county firms were assessed at 16 per cent of market value other timberland owners in Clark county were assessed at only 10 per cent, and city property at only 12 per cent. In view of these averages Judge Brown put the Equalization Board's 16 per cent figure down to 10.

And Judge Brown said:

"This one observation the Court feels should be made in the public interest. In the trial of this case, it became necessary to hear testimony on individual property assessments of hundreds of taxpayers. The public is entitled to know that many inequalities in assessments throughout the county were revealed. The Court has no jurisdiction to remedy these inequalities at this late date. Some of the faults lie in the assessing system fixed by law, some with individual property owners. Regardless where the fault lies, it should be corrected. An active public opinion based on record information, can do more than all the courts, equalization boards and assessors combined.

"It is to be regretted that the law imposes such a burden of work on this (Equalization) Board without the necessary time or technical staff allowed them to perform their labors. This is only one of the many fallacies in the assessing laws."

And there is a well-known editorial postscript which we are going to add to Judge Brown's court document. In recent years The Star has pointed out time and again the folly of perpetuating elective tax assessors and expecting such a vulnerable system to operate with justice and produce adequate local revenues.

What Judge Brown says of the penurious setup for the equalization board is even truer of the elective county assessor—the poorest-paid and least-staffed office in every county courthouse, although the most important.

Obviously the tax assessor, the equalization board and the other functions having to do with factual determinations of property value ought to be a self-perpetuating bureau of county government far removed from the corrupt hands of individual taxpayers either seeking special favors for themselves or to penalize others. And this unit ought to have the largest budget, far of any office in the courthouse.

We had this proposal recommended to the governor's office by the Joint Tax Revision Committee last November, modeled on the famous law of the State of Iowa, under which the county tax assessor is appointed by a board of locally-elected officials, the county judge, the president of the county school board, and a third person named by the governments of all the incorporated towns in the county. But unwise pressure on the governor's office compelled Governor Cherry to strike out this recommendation when preparing the final draft of the Tax Revision Amendment proposal, which the legislature has since approved and which is now subject to vote of the people in November 1954.

If you believe in local government you must acknowledge that local government should be empowered to meet its own tax responsibilities and assess some reform is adopted pretty soon we shall see the time come when all public revenues and all power to levy taxes are controlled by the state and federal governments.

We aren't far from that stage today, when, as disclosed by Judge Brown's court findings, the average level of tax assessment in Clark county—probably no better or worse than most Arkansas counties—is only 10 to 12 per cent of the average market valuation.

The difference between the tax money that this antiquated system actually produces and the budget that is required to support modern schools and other public institutions is covered of course by income taxes, sales taxes, and all manner of special levies. No one can possibly escape. The wealthy do and middle classes are hit by the state income tax and the poor by sales and excise taxes—and unless property tax laws are quickly reformed we will find the rates on these other taxes will rise with the years.

And property taxes being basic to all local government it is imperative that the disposition to chronic injustice, as disclosed in Judge Brown's decision, be corrected. International Paper company and Ozan Lumber company are well able to pay attorneys to fight in justice when it hits them, but what about the little fellows?

Although cocoa originated in the New World, Africa now produces about two-thirds of the world's supply.

East Germans
Stampede to West for Food

By DAN DeLUCE

BERLIN (AP) — The West hurriedly boosted its gigantic food relief program to a round-the-clock operation today as the stampede of hungry East Germans to collect misery parcels hit record proportions.

Defying Communist police terror and threats of reprisal, the stream of needy coming through the Iron Curtain became a day and night flood.

Last night for the first time, some relief stations worked all through the night and still couldn't handle the crowds.

About 200,000 parcels were distributed yesterday to top the previous day's mark by 50 per cent. Authorities estimated the distribution in today's giant giveaway would hit 250,000. That would mean more than 700,000 East Germans receiving food since the handouts began Monday morning.

To cope with the throngs, West Berlin authorities opened 10 more relief stations. This raised the total to 60—double the number with which the program started.

At the big Schoenberg City Hall by midmorning, at Wilmsdorf station, 12,000 persons were in line 10,000 waited patiently in a drizzle. Similar scenes dotted all sectors of free West Berlin.

Hundreds stood through the night at Schoenberg.

Extra crews were hired to help catch up with the demand. The food is taken from West Berlin's antistockpile reserves. It is being replaced by a 15 million dollar American gift shipped on President Eisenhower's orders to give relief to the needy despite Moscow's rejection.

A baby airlift is helping deliver the American shipments from the port of Hamburg.

2,400 on the Road Back to Communism

By AL KAFF

INCHON, Korea (UP) — Eighteen hundred North Korean and 600 Chinese war prisoners landed here today on the road back to communism.

The North Koreans disembarked from U. S. Navy ships in orderly fashion, but a large group of Chinese Reds ripped and fouled their uniforms.

A mixed American infantrymen ordered to shoot only "in self defense" stood guard as the prisoners disembarked.

The landings delayed the departure of 2,000 American troops for the United States.

The only incident in the disembarkation was the deliberate tearing of uniforms by some Chinese, apparently to give the impression of ill-treatment.

The American soldiers, all being returned home on rotation, were delayed five hours because of priority given to the unloading of the Communist prisoners.

Actually the United States
Is Just Now Entering the Real Age of Magic Carpet

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — We are just entering the real magic carpet age.

Before the year 2,000 some American mother, noticing her daughter furiously packing her suitcase on a Saturday morning, will ask:

"Where are you going, Mary?"

"To Cairo... they're having a houseboat-on-the-Nile party there tonight," Mary will reply. "Now don't worry, mother, I'll be home tomorrow afternoon."

Weekend tourist trips to the moon probably won't be popular until a few years after that.

Such ideas still sound a big fantastic to us. But how the generation of 1900 would have hooted if someone had said that in 1953 airplanes would fly the Atlantic Ocean in less than five hours, as two jet bombers did this week in a routine journey at above 600 miles an hour.

Why, in 1900 only fools like those

Arkadelphia Youth
Shot Stealing Melons

ARKADELPHIA (AP) — A 17-year-old boy was shot in the face last night when he engaged in what Sheriff Howard Arnold called a "favorite sport of Arkadelphia boys—swiping watermelons from a moving truck."

Arnold said Bobby Mackey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mackey, was wounded in the face by an unidentified truck driver on Highway 67 north of here.

He said young Mackey crawled into the truck as it was trundling up a hill and started throwing out the melons to friends trailing the vehicle.

He said the driver saw the boy on the rear of the truck and shot him. Arnold said the truck driver did not stop after the shooting. A pickup order has been sent out.

Arnold said raiding the melon trucks has become quite a pastime with Arkadelphia boys.

The physician who treated Mackey said the wound was not serious.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rev. Jack Richard McMichael swore today that he has never been a Communist and is ready to take a lie detector test to prove it.

The blond, lanky, 36-year-old Methodist pastor from Upper Merion, Cal., appeared before the House Un-American Activities committee to answer charges by previous witnesses that he was a Communist.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission today extended for an additional 22 months the 15 per cent increase in freight rates it authorized in April 1952.

LONDON (AP) — The United States' stand against seating Red China in the United Nations came under fresh fire today in London and New Delhi.

Secretary of State Dulles was accused in the British House of Commons of laying down a policy line for the Korean peace conference without taking into account the views of U. S. allies. Clement Attlee, leader of the British Labor party, said it was peculiar that a "unilateral declaration of policy" should come from Washington.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Arkansas' season of mountain doves will open Sept. 15 and continue to Oct. 14 this year.

Terry has been sought in connection with a $60,000 bank robbery at Black Ridge, Ark., and another $5,000 burglary at a Jonesboro bank.

Radar Shows Violations
by Chinese

By SAM SUMMERLIN

MUNSAN (AP) — Allied radar tracked large numbers of Communist warplanes southward from Manchuria to North Korea bases after the ceasefire deadline Monday night, it was reported today.

The Reds complained of two more minor U. N. force violations.

U. S. Air Force officers said the Red planes—presumably MIG jets—were spotted by a big Allied radar station on Cho Island, deep behind Communist lines off North Korea. The story was delayed for 24 hours by censors.

An office said the Communist planes began taking off at dark, apparently from Manchurian bases safe from Allied attack, and were still landing at North Korean fields after the 10 p. m. deadline when all arms and armaments shipments into Korea were to have stopped.

Allied planes have bombed North Korean air bases continually, but an Air Force officer said "apparently we didn't leave the fields nonoperational."

Meanwhile, the joint Military Armistice Commission picked Saturday as the tentative date for the first face-to-face meeting of Swedish, Swiss, Polish and Czech officers who will police the flow of men and arms into and out of Korea.

Red Cross workers from six nations convened at Panmunjom to chart the role they will play in helping repatriate nearly 90,000 prisoners of war starting Wednesday.

By The Associated Press

SEOUL, Friday — Allied and Communist armies were cleared today from the 2½-mile demilitarized belt across Korea where three days ago they were locked in furious battle.

The U. S. 8th Army said all United Nations troops were out of the battle-ploughed zone by 9:30 last night (6:30 a. m. Thursday, CST)—10 minutes before the deadline set by the armistice agreement.

Peiping radio said early today the Communist forces had completed their withdrawal from the 150-mile front by 10 p. m.

The Peiping broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, said North Korean and Chinese forces have taken up positions north of the demilitarized zone "in readiness to meet any U. N. breach of the armistice."

Under armistice terms all troops had to be out of the 2½-mile-wide belt by 10 p. m. tonight (6 a. m., EST).

Allied soldiers — Americans, South Koreans and other troops of 15 other lands—started leaving the battle line shortly after the truce was signed Monday morning. The guns fell silent Monday night.

Columns of soldiers walked down from hills they had bought in blood — from battlegrounds halfway between the present and history.

Half Million
Dollar Fire

By CARL BELL

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fire which spread through three-fourths of a block before firemen could get to combat it wiped out a large lumber company and two other business establishments here last night.

About a dozen firemen were overcome by heat, smoke and exhaustion, two of them required hospitalization.

Owners of the destroyed businesses had not estimated their losses this morning, but Fire Chief Gann Nalley made a rough guess of half a million dollars.

Only two businesses in the block bounded by Seventh, Eighth, Izard and Chester streets escaped damage.

The Nowlin Lumber Co., in which the intern began of an undetermined cause, was leveled. This 2-story corrugated iron and frame building and its lumber yard at Eighth and Izard covered about two-thirds of the block.

Only the charred brick walls were left of the Mattingly Furniture and Upholstering Co., and the Fairway Hardware Co., on the Seventh Street side of the block. The roof of the Guy Bea: Furniture Co., on Seventh was burned.

Besides the lumber company the only establishment on Eighth Street was the Lee Auto Co., a used car firm. It did not burn but was damaged by heat and smoke.

Nehru Asks for Advance Meeting

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian Prime Minister Nehru urged today that the major U. N. powers in the Korean War meet with the Chinese Communists and the North Koreans in advance of the Aug. 17 meeting of the U. N. Assembly.

The Assembly will plot the framework of the post-conflict political conference, to be held within 90 days of the armistice signing, but Nehru said the views of the Chinese and Korean Reds should be considered. Neither are members of the United Nations.

"The proper course would be for private consultations between the great powers concerned, enabling them to put forward an agreed resolution," the Indian leader told a news conference.

"The composition and functions of the political conference are not a mere matter for the United Nations General Assembly," he declared.

Clark Receives
Big Welcome
on U. S. Arrival

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark returned to the United States today to a warm hero's welcome and said the Korean truce is "merely an agreement between military commanders to stop shooting."

The big special four-engine Constellation carrying the general and Mrs. Clark on the flight from his Tokyo headquarters, set down at the San Francisco International Airport.

Three bands blared forth as the plane landed, including the blue and gold dressed 57-man Sixth Army band and a red and green killed pipers band.

San Francisco (UP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark returns to the United States today with the somber warning that the Korean truce is "merely an agreement between military commanders to stop shooting."

The supreme United Nations commander and his wife left Honolulu by plane at 3:30 a. m. EDT today, and were expected to arrive here this afternoon for a hero's welcome.

At Honolulu Clark said the armistice pact signed at Panmunjom "Doesn't necessarily mean peace."

"It remains to be seen if the Communists who have been preaching peace for so long really mean it," Clark said. "Meanwhile, we will have to be on guard."

An official delegation headed by Mayor Elmer E. Robinson, and sixth army commander Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing waited for the Clarks here.

San Francisco, which Clark called his "adopted city," planned a ticker tape parade and celebration with full civic and military honors.

He was expected to make a "Major address" before an estimated 1,000 luncheon guests at the Palace Hotel. Later he was to make an "off the record" talk at the San Francisco Press & Union League Club.

$6.7 Million
Foreign Aid
Passes Senate

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate early today voted $6,745,319.202 in foreign aid funds to climax a 15½-hour, oratory-packed session in which all efforts to slash the total were rejected. But the bill faced a new fight with the House.

Senate representatives must work out a compromise settlement with those of the House, which pruned more than a billion dollars from President Eisenhower's request for funds to help the free world combat communism.

A Senate-House conference committee will be named today to seek a compromise.

By a thumping 69-10 margin, after beating off six attempts to cut it down, the Senate stamped approval on a big money bill containing some $48 million dollars more than voted by the House.

If the Senate-House compromise follows the pattern recently set in the rush to adjourn by this week-end, the final total probably will be $1.5 billion—including about 4½ billion in new funds for the year which began July 1, and two billion in unpledged money from previous appropriations.

On final Senate passage, 37 Democrats outnumbered 31 Republicans who shouted approval along with the lone independent, Morse of Oregon.

Opposing was a lone Democrat, Olin Johnston (SC) and nine Republicans; Bricker (Ohio), C. A. E. Hart and Jenner (Ind.), Dvorak and Welker (Idaho), Goldwater (Ariz.), Langer and Young (ND) and Malone (Nev.).

While a half-billion more than voted by the House, the $6,745,319.202 total was a half-billion less than requested by Eisenhower and some three billions below what former President Truman asked last January.

Passage of the bill, containing exactly the sum recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee, was considered an administration triumph by Acting Leader Knowland of California, Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Appropriations Committee and Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), who conceded he had bitterly fought similar measures in the past under Democratic presidencies.

Knowland hit hard on the theme that any additional cuts in the foreign aid program might cause "ruthless men in the Kremlin" to believe the United States and the free world are weakening.

"If we do stand firm, no man can tell whether the stresses and strains may bring godless communism crashing down," he said.

As the bill cleared the Senate it contained $4,592,033,811 in new money and $2,152,985,391 in funds previously voted by Congress but not yet under contract or obligation.

The House had cut into both these funds. The Senate restored 124 millions of new cash plus 424 millions of previous funds.

Sen. Russell Long (D-La.) led the initial effort to hold the funds to exactly the amount voted by the House. But it was beaten 53-35 as party lines split almost precisely.

FBI Jails 6
for Plotting
Against U. S.

By BRADSHAW

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Six shabby dressed, tight-lipped men were scooped up in an FBI dragnet early today on charges they conspired "to overthrow the United States government by force and violence."

FBI agents swooped down on the homes of four and the summer cottage of another. The sixth was nabbed as he emerged from a Communist cell meeting.

Hours later, the six by then sleep-eyed men were held in a room of $175,000 bail and led away the homes of four and the summer cottage of another.

Bail was set at down in the Federal Building office of U. S. Commissioner Henry P. Carr.

Joseph Kuzma, 41—identified by the FBI as a Communist party trade union secretary in eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware—was seized, the FBI agents said, as he walked away from a Communist party meeting in northern Philadelphia. He was held in $50,000 bail for a further hearing Aug. 6 after U. S. Commissioner Joseph H. Hildebrand told Carr he considered Kuzma "the leader of this group."

Kuzma, identified by the FBI as a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., told Carr he couldn't remember his home address in Philadelphia and would require "a telephone book to recall it."

Held for a further hearing on the same date in $25,000 bail each were:

David Dubensky, also known as David Davis, 40; Sherman Abowitz, 20; Walter Owens, 30; Thomas Neubert, 51, and Benjamin Weiss, 30, all of Philadelphia.

Nabbed, the only Negro in the group, was a white T shirt. Weiss sported a tan T shirt very similar to those issued by the government to servicemen, Owens had on a blue sports shirt and carried a sports jacket over his shoulder.

GOP, Democratic Leaders Called
in for Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today recommended an increase in the 275-million-dollar federal debt limit, and there were signs congressional leaders were putting aside plans for adjournment this weekend and making ready to tackle the issue.

In the early afternoon, however, the whole matter was still up in the air.

Eisenhower invited both Republican and Democratic leaders to the White House for breakfast and, with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge, went over the government's fiscal situation with them.

He asked no commitment from them, and they left him with the understanding they would consult among themselves and with other legislators at the Capitol.

Back at the Capitol, there was a quick series of huddles. House leaders indicated willingness to take up the matter—figuring it would mean no more than a week's delay in adjournment of Congress.

Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.) said there was an understanding the ways and means committee would begin hearing on a bill Monday. Cooper is the ranking Democrat on the group.

"The attitude of Senate leaders was less clear. Several influential senators are strongly opposed to lifting the debt ceiling, and the Senate's rules permit unlimited debate."

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) acting Republican leader, hinted Congress may not meet its Saturday adjournment deadline because of "recent developments."

Rhee, Dulles
to Talk Over Unification

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of seeking a permanent Korean settlement on the basis of "neutralizing" the whole country probably will be discussed with President Syngman Rhee when Secretary of State Dulles meets him in Seoul next week.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) has advanced the idea of a neutralized Korea as one which might make unification of the country more appealing to the Communists and still satisfy United States and Allied security requirements.

Knowland, acting GOP leader in the Senate, is one of four senators who will accompany Dulles to Korea. The others are H. Alexander Smith (R-NH), Richard Russell (D-Ga.), and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.).

Cuban Army Slays
6 Revolutionists

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban Army units in a battle near Santiago last night killed six men identified as remnants of last weekend's unsuccessful revolutionists.

A government report said three soldiers were wounded, one seriously, in the exchange.

Unofficial reports previously had listed a total of 36 insurgents and 10 Army and police dead in the abortive attacks early Sunday on an Army barracks in Santiago and a police post near that city in east Cuba.

The government reported more than 200 men made the original attacks. Troops are still pursuing the remnants, reportedly about 50.

Joe Horgan Last of Old Golf School

BY WILL GRIMBLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — In 1922 Gene Sarazen won a golf exhibition after winning the first U. S. Open and had a trip to make from Long Island to the Westchester Country club in N.Y. Sarazen's caddy told the golfer not to worry, he'd bring along the club. After coaching Hye, Sarazen stood around nervously waiting for the caddy to show. Finally he appeared, but no club. "I stopped off in the library," the caddy explained, without remorse. "Some fellows in a tavern there took a liking to the club, so I gave 'em away."

The caddy was old Joe Horgan, legendary dean of America's club luggers, who died Monday night in Brooklyn at the age of 72. "Joe was the last of the old school caddy," recalled Sarazen. "He caddied for all the great champions before and after the turn of the century. He was the first professional."

Though Horgan almost a legend, he carried clubs for the first 18 U. S. Open champions, Horace Rawlin, in 1905. He was the second man in line of Willie Anderson's four Open triumphs (1901 through 1905). "Joe mainly, Horgan was Harry Vardon's boy," the great English "spilt" would have no doubt said during his American career. Horgan caddied for Vardon in 1900 when the Briton won the U. S. Open and again in 1913 and 1920.

Shortly before Vardon died he asked how Horgan was getting along. "Sarazen said, 'I told Harry that Joe had quit caddied for clubs and had turned golf journalist. Vardon seemed very pleased."

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market stepped ahead slightly today, with good gains well distributed. Many gains ran to between 1 and 2 points with a few pushing up to around 3 points. Losses were small and scattered.

Stocks in quite a few major divisions moved ahead with a show-vision spots are wide open.

And Pine Bluff, El Dorado, Jackson and Greenville are making a battle of it.

Pine Bluff replaced El Dorado in second place last night with a triumph, 16-4, losing of Greenville, while El Dorado was defeated four times to beat El Dorado, 5-3. Jackson fell back a game when Natchez shined the Senators, 2-1. Meridian used a 5-run, fifth inning to defeat Monroe, 11-1.

Greenville used five pitchers, including rightfielder Ty Brazier and third baseman Ray Pospisnik in a vain attempt to stop the Judges' 15th attack.

Pine Bluff played without Manager Frank Luebeck who was injured 25-0 and compared three days by President Al Haraway for a period with an umpire at El Dorado on July 21th.

Travs Drop Another One to 'Noogans

By JACK RIMMS

Another hard hit at the bat of the Southern Association's first division home run today, and if the New Orleans Pelicans keep it up a little longer they may have to find something to do.

Danny McIntosh's Pelicans have won 11 of their last 18 games, moving from sixth to fifth and cutting the "distance" to first place from 11 to 7 games.

Last night, New Orleans clubbed Nashville's Vols, 1-0. The New Orleans victory and Atlanta's 5-1 decision over Little Rock left first place Nashville only half a game ahead of the Crackers.

Brigham climbed to within five games of the Vols by clipping third place Memphis, 12-1. Chattanooga jumped over Little Rock into sixth by downing the Mobile Bears, 2-1.

Lefty Bill George limited Little Rock to five hits as the outwitting Crackers grabbed their seventh victory in eight games on the road. Vorne Williamson went the distance for the Travs, giving up 10 hits, including a homer to Dick Sonovio. George didn't allow a runner past first until Frank Bolling doubled in the fifth.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's victory last November appears to have upset the old Republican "one-party" system which did much to block the development of a two-party system in the South.

In past years, a small and frequently passive group held Republican control in Southern states, contenting themselves with keeping a skeleton organization in being while doing little if anything about building up a grass roots organization. They were the party caretakers between national elections, and in many cases collaborated with the Democrats.

An Associated Press survey in 14 Southern and border states in 1950 and border states in 1951 already has threatened the old system in several states.

It has reached the point where some lifelong Democrats are calling themselves Republicans with out shame. The word "Republican" no longer means political suicide in some Democratic strong holds.

There is as yet no indication the Eisenhower admirers who bolted the Democratic ranks last November can be counted in the Republican column in another election. But Republicans are hopeful. They are claiming they will capture several congressional seats in the South next year and edge their way into offices at local levels.

However, the Democratic tradition cracked by Eisenhower hasn't been shattered, the survey shows. A long haul is ahead before there is a real two-party system in all the Southland.

South Carolina came close to giving Eisenhower a majority of votes last November. Gov. James P. Byrnes gave his support to a "South Carolinians for Eisenhower" movement. The losing margin was less than 10,000 votes out of 340,000.

The gain any real strength, the Republicans in South Carolina will have to recruit rebellious Democrats who voted for Eisenhower. Reports from South Carolina indicate no such trend is apparent.

Louisiana was another state where Eisenhower missed narrowly. Adlai E. Stevenson's winning margin was only slightly more than 8,000 votes out of 651,900.

There in the Delta Country, as in many parts of the South, the Republicans are hampered by lack of local machinery. Republican leader John Minor Wisdom, has begun efforts to establish organizations at parish level. In the past, New Orleans had the only local GOP organization in the state.

Wisdom led the successful convention fight to seat Louisiana's Eisenhower delegates at Chicago against delegates pledged to Sen. Russell B. Gibson. As a result, he broke the hold of the "Old Guard" in the state.

Gov. Robert Kennon, lifelong Democrat who supported Eisenhower, said he will remain a Democrat.

But there are straws in the political wind. The mayor and three councilmen in the little northeast farm town of Oak Grove, La., all Democrats—recently switched to Republican registration. They said they wanted to encourage a two party system.

Here in brief is the Republican picture in other Southern states:

Alabama: Republicans are planning a vigorous campaign for federal, state and county offices in the 1954 elections. The heavy Eisenhower vote last year gave the GOP the right to hold primaries in all congressional districts and in 55 of the 67 counties.

Arkansas: Arkansas gave Eisenhower the largest vote ever received in the state by a Republican presidential candidate—but reports are "Arkansas still is a long way from a two-party state."

There is no indication the Democrats for Eisenhower are switching party allegiance.

Georgia: Republicans plan to concentrate next year on local, county and district offices, with attention also on congressional races.

GOP National Committeeman W. R. Tucker of Dawsonville said his party "will begin a real effort to build a two-party system not later than the next elections."

Mississippi: AP Correspondent Keith Fuller writes: "The hard kernel of Democrats and Republicans that joined forces to guide President Eisenhower's campaign in Mississippi say their present county and state organizations are still intact and growing. As it functions, this coalition represents the Republican administration in Mississippi."

Concern Over Nations at Peace Parley

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The answer to this question — what nations will take part in the Korean peace conference — is of great concern to the United States. But no one, including the United States, has the answer yet.

On one side of the peace table will be the Chinese and North Korean Communists. On the other will be the United States and South Korea and some members of the United Nations.

But just who those other U. N. delegates will be is to be decided some time between mid-August and late October.

Secretary of State Dulles was reported to have told a Senate foreign relations subcommittee behind closed doors recently that one of his gravest problems is how to prevent this country being outvoted by other U. N. members at the conference.

Whether the United States would be outvoted by its friends would depend on the issue being considered. For instance: Should the Communists and the United Nations withdraw all their troops from Korea?

One State Department official said he thought the United States would do in the peace conference what it does regularly in the U. N. itself.

It tries to iron out differences between itself and others before there is any formal open voting.

The peace conference opens about Oct. 28. On Aug. 17 the U. N. General Assembly meets in New York to pick a place for the conference and consider the composition of the U. N. delegation.

The U. N. has 60 members. The fighting against the Communists in Korea was made in the name of the U. N. but only about one quarter of the 60 contributed any fighting forces.

Besides the United States and South Korea, which is not a U. N. member, these were the only U. N. members who provided ground or air forces: Britain, Australia, France, New Zealand, South Africa, Canada, Belgium, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Greece, Turkey, Ethiopia, The Philippines, Thailand, and Colombia.

Some of these 15 contributed only a tiny fraction of the fighting force. Should all of them sit down with the United States and South Korea? And what of others which didn't contribute any fighting strength at all?

India, for instance, might be given a delegate's seat at the conference because it had worked for an armistice.

Would Russia be included in the U. N. delegation? Russia not only didn't help the U. N. forces but

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Steed spent the weekend in Bossier City, La., with relatives. They were accompanied by the Communists on the other side.

At the General Assembly meeting next month the United States no doubt will fight to have at the most only those nations which contributed fighting forces allowed to take part in the conference.

Perhaps it will try to get the assembly to authorize an even smaller peace delegation.

But there is no indication at the State Department that officials there yet know what their position will be in the assembly meeting. They don't seem to have made up their minds yet.

No decision is likely until after Secretary of State Dulles returns from South Korea. He is flying there this weekend to confer with President Syngman Rhee.

Dulles has indicated he would object to Russia as a U. N. representative.

Hay Elected Mayor of Texarkana, Ark.

By The Associated Press

Texarkana City Treasurer Haskell C. Hay yesterday won a clear-cut victory for the mayoralty post, but Pine Bluff's city election was thrown into a runoff to be decided Aug. 11.

The 4-year-old Hay piled up 1,011 votes to block B. McCarty's bid for a fourth term as mayor of Texarkana. McCarty received 937 votes. E. Roy Hodge, a Texarkana contractor making his second try for the office, got 393 votes.

Offie Lites Sr. and Wallace Steffey were thrown into the runoff at Pine Bluff, Lites getting 2,012 votes, to 1,431 for Steffey.

George Hestand polled 1,430 votes, one less than Steffey but Hestand said he will not contest the election. Hestand is the brother of Fort Smith Mayor Happy Hestand. Paul Bates, fourth man in the Pine Bluff race, received 1,052.

The Pine Bluff unofficial vote of 3,925 was a new record for the city, eclipsing the old mark of 4,300 votes set in 1941.

Mother of Three Shot to Death

CALICO ROCK, Mo. — Sheriff Elmer Fudge said today a 35-year-old mother of three children was shot to death at her home here last night following an argument with her husband.

Sheriff Fudge said the shot awoke the woman's three daughters who reached their mother, Mrs. Odessa Hall, "in time to see her take one last breath." The sheriff said Mrs. Hall was dead from a .22 caliber bullet wound in the chest when he arrived.

The husband, Ernest Hall, an auto mechanic, was found in the back yard of the couple's home, said Fudge.

The sheriff quoted Hall as saying: "I don't know what happened."

Fudge said Hall was being held in an undisclosed jail on an open charge.

Fudge said the shooting resulted from "domestic trouble." He refused to elaborate.

Fiore Registers Upset Victory

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The Florio brothers—Dan and Nick—can take the loss for Carmine Fiore's upset victory last night over Danny Giovannelli at Madison Square Garden.

"I did everything my trainers told me," said Fiore. "Dan and Nick told me to go in there and fight him. That's what I did. They told me to use my right more because he'd be looking for the left."

The 23-year-old veteran of 62 fights did just that. Three after time he hammered home a right lead over Danny's packer. Job
Then when he found the evening he'd crash a left hook to the head.
Fiore, a 4 to 1 underdog, scored as surprising an upset in whipping 21-year-old Giovannelli before some 2,500, paying $7,500, as Danny boy had done when he defeated
Vince Martinez in May. The Martinez win was the one that "made" Giovannelli.

Marines Make Test Prisoner Swap Run

SEOUL, 30.—U. S. Marines simulating returned war prisoners ran through a practice session today in preparation for handling the flood of Allied soldiers to be freed from Communist prison camps next week.

The sketched only one step—the ice cream that will be waiting at the end of the line.

Sixty Leathernecks were trained through the entire process that will begin Aug. 5—the date set for the first Allied POWs to begin streaming into Freedom Village.

Freedom Village—the name was coined during the exchange of sick and wounded Allied POWs last April—is being moved about a mile from the original tent city.

The new quarters—bigger and more elaborate—will be only 100 yards from a rail line leading south to Seoul.

Mother Admits Killing Young Son

CHICAGO (AP)—Police said a 28-year-old mother related early today the first 3-year-old son to a water pipe, then beat him to death with a chair, breaking his arms, legs and nose.

The child's body was found last night by police who went to the family's South Side apartment to investigate a neighbor's complaint the mother, Mrs. Veronica Burton, was trying to control an ill-kept child.

Police Lt. Thomas Casey said the woman related the beat the boy, Peter Jr., because he was disobedient. He said she used a chair as a weapon until it broke, then used pieces of the chair.

Mrs. Burton and her husband, Peter, 35, have three other young children.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away

Visiting Around Arkansas
BY JOE MARSH

"FISHING . . . A La Robin Hood"

Cleaning a lake of alligator gar to make the fishing fun again on a long time. Then somebody got an idea to make a sport of it and started using deep sea tackle. Now the sportsmen have really put gar fishing in the novel class by taking them with bow and arrow.

The annual Bow and Arrow Gar Hunt on Mud Lake, Bay in Monroe County is going to have one really-eyed spectator. If it doesn't draw another soul, leave it to some Arkansas fishermen to take a sport out of the run-of-the-mill class.

The American brewers who make beer and also produce a beverage that is also above the run-of-the-mill class. Made of the finest ingredients obtainable, and marketed by good merchants, beer is a part of the American way of living. And the brewers, too, have been working for a long time to see that a fine product is sold in legal, clean and wholesome surroundings.

CHAPTER TEN

FROM THE LETTERS THAT EMERGED AT THE TIME EMILY WROTE SHE HAD SECURED HER PASSAGE, FOR THIS SIDE OF MID OCTOBER. SHE GAVE HIM AN ADDRESS WHICH WOULD REACH HER, SHE WAS WELL AND BUSY. "Pete is giving me my share. I'll be in London first and after that, I think Greece." She added: "I don't know how to answer your letter. I only hope you'll find what you are looking for, Dave. When you do, and even if you don't, and we are together again, we are perhaps better off than we are now, really."

George wrote that Em was fine, and business booming. "Everyone is curious about you." The letter was hard to read, George had long been a stranger to longhand. "I tell people what I can, Maria, of course, keeps after me, she says there's got to be an explanation. I tell her Dave knows the answers, so what if we don't? There's a gap, naturally, with Em kitting off in another direction. I say as little as possible. I wish you'd phone, Dave. I've wanted to call you but thought better of it. If you wanted to talk to me, you would."

Newton had written. He said he'd been down with flu. "Foot-balls in full swing. Chances are going great guns. Here and there, an embryo action. I've given some thought to your book and they'll be along. Make use of them, Dave. Meanwhile, God bless you. He will, you know, whether or not you care or not."

The boys came in and Dave said casually: "I haven't seen a paper, I've lost track of time. When does the hunting season open?"

"Twenty-first for rabbit and squirrel, a week from tomorrow. Bear and deer, the 28th," Joe said. Outlanders were queer, thin one especially, but the covered type-writer on the little table might account for that. "Remember, you got to have a license," he warned. "Do you really get bear?"

Joe said: "Well, we haven't. That is, I've not, before I was born. Father folks have since. We've fathered them, though. Sometimes they break into rumps, chuck stuff around, clean out the food. Pop showed us some tracks last year by the pond."

Dave nodded. This was, then, October 13. The date Emily was to sail.

He said: "I'll walk along with you. I want to telephone. Maybe your father could let me, and the tree back with him."

He reached George at the club. "Got your letter," he said, "no lie. I am. No, there's nothing wrong with the mail service. I haven't stopped by here for mail, that's all. Been sleeping mostly. Did Em sail today?"

George said that she had. "Maria and I wanted to go to New York and see her off but she asked us not to. She went down on the 10th."

"Would you send her a wireless for me? And one of your own, too, or the date line might confuse her, she'd think I was home."

"Why don't you send it yourself?"

"I'm in the mood for smoke signals. Seriously, it would be simpler for me if you did. She's held on a moment, say, 'did not get letter until today, thinking of you, sending all my love'."

It was a banal, inadequate, but would have to do, he repeated it. Then he said: "I don't want to hold up this wire. It's a party line. I'll phone again, George. And don't worry. I'm fine better than in a long time."

It was true physically: the sleep, sometimes dreamless, unbroken, the good air, the exercise, however light, and, oddly enough, the haphazard eating. For his cringing, unpredictable stomach was behaving; he had had pain only twice since moving into camp and had one severe headache, which had come upon him in the night and left with dawn.

He returned to camp on the Rogers track, with the ice. "You won't need that long," said Rogers. "Nights are getting cold, they'll be colder and stay that way. That young devil Herb scared me some. Suppose you did have an accident?"

"I'll risk it." He was half amused, half annoyed. Then he saw the concern in Rogers' eyes. No two ways about it, you had to let a slice of freedom slip unless you didn't care about people's feelings. "Tell you what, if I don't come by, every couple or three days, you come on out."
